HOW TREASURY DEPARTMENT OF-

They Assert There Will Be No Issue of Bonds, but a Chicago Man Says Cleveland Is Preparing for One.

MORA CLAIM PAID AT LAST

DRAFT FOR $1,449,900 DELIVERED TO ACTING SECRETARY ADEE.

Final Distribution of the Money Likely to Be Long Delayed by People Who Want Liberal Portions of It.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 .- The feeling of apprehension that resulted from yesterday's heavy withdrawals of gold for export has almost entirely disappeared from the Treasury Department to-day, but it has given place to one of anxiety for the future. None of the higher officials now in Washington, so far as can be learned, is in Mr. Carlisle's confidence to the extent of knowing his views of the situation or his purposes for the future, and hence no one is able to speak with any degree of certainty as to what would be done in the event of continued heavy withdrawals of gold. The consensus of opinion, however, issue before Congress has had an opporbefore that time will be extreme. It is arof cotton is very unusual and far below that of any recent year, and that grain shipments surely must soon begin, and that improved business will stiffen money rates. A turn of the tide, therefore, is expected. The fact, too, that the United States has since Jan. 1, 1894, exported more than $120,000,000 in gold in excess of her imports, it is claimed, is a strong argument in favor of a speedy return to normal conditions. What action Congress will take in the mat-ter is problematical, yet it seems more than probable that the administration will pre-sent some plan for the retirement of United States notes now outstanding. These amount to over $247,500,000, and their presence in our currency is regarded as a con-stant menace to our financial stability. That some measure to this end will be presented in Mr. Cleveland's message at the reconvening of Congress is very probable, and it is thought Mr. Carlisle is now work ing out a scheme by which this volume of currency can be retired without any serious financial disturbance. The Treasury Department was not advised of any gold withdrawals or deposits to-day. The true amount of the reserve at the close of business was $96,332,554.

Less Unersiness at New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.-Yesterday's excitement over the financial situation en gendered by the impression that the bond syndicate had withdrawn its protection from the government gold reserve was succeeded by a calm to-day. There were no developments to add to the uneasiness in business circles, and consequently the feeling tended toward reassurance. When banking hours clos at noon there had been no deposits of gold made at the subtreasury by any of the city banks in furtherance of the policy begun yesterday, and on the other hand there had been no withdrawals for shipment, as no steamers sail on Sunday. It was reported that the National City Bank had given the syndicate $1,000,000 in gold in exchange for greenbacks, but the report could not be confirmed at the bank in the absence of President Stillman, and J. Plerpont Mor-gan declined to say whether it was true. In banking circles it was said that unless the syndicate received some gold from the National City Bank yesterday it had no more gold on hand at present. These gold certificates, about $3,000,000 in all, are not canceled when paid in by the syndicate, and, therefore, always appear in the treasury statement to be outstanding. For the convenience of the syndicate in making deposits they are allowed to be reissued, the deposits of them being treated Representatives of Pittsburg and Rochester banks have made an otter to deposit $1,000,000 in gold in the subtreasury here to help keep the gold reserve intact, the offer being accompanied by the proviso the government pay the express charges on the gold. The treasury's offer to snip currency taken in exchange for gold at government rates, would, it is anticipated, result in deposits of gold next There is absolutely no confirmation to be had in the best-informed circles of the rumors of an impending bond issue. The

Pierpont Morgan, if a witness could be found who would sup. | the financial adviser and mainstay of the ninistration, and possibly Belmont as the representative of the Rothschilds. W. H. Cannon, president of the Chase National Bank, the reputed deviser of the great bond syndicate scheme, has left New York for the West to be absent about ten days. Mr. Morgan and Mr. Bel-mont are out of town, and profound ignorance obtains among the other members of the bond syndicate as to the next financial move on the programme.

Another Bond Issue.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.-Charles Hutchinson president of the Corn Exchange Bank, in an interview in the Post to-day says that arrangements for a new issue of bonds are about completed. "I have it on the best of authority," he said, "that the Morgannont syndicate is negotiating with President Cleveland. The only point undecided is the amount, the President desiring to make it $25,000,000, while the syndicate wants at least $50,000,000. My information is from New York." Springfield Offers $100,000.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 14.-Manager Condell, of the Springfield clearing house, this afternoon telegraphed the Secretary of the Treasury that the banks of this city would furnish the government $100,000 in gold in exchange for currency. No reply had been received up to a late hour to-

AN OLD CLAIM PAID. Mora Finally Reimbursed by the Spanish Government. WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 .- Senor De Lome the Spanish minister, at noon to-day delivered to Mr. Adee, acting Secretary of State, a draft to the equivalent of $1,449, 000, drawn on the Spanish financial agent in London, in settlement of the Mora claim. There was no ceremony about the proceedings. They marked the close of an international question that has dragged along for twenty-six years, giving rise to flery debates in the Spanish Cortes and tents of his last letter to the cup commit-protracted inquiries in both branches of tee, but the Englishman refused to furnish our own Congress. The Spanish minister came to the State Department alone, and his interview with acting Secretary Adee lasted about ten minutes. The method of collecting the draft has not been determined, and Mr. Adee will await instructions from Secretary Olney.

MALONE, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Melleville Scranton and Paul Sheulte, of East Sagi-naw, Mich., were drowned in Tupper lake. They had come to Tupper Lake village on business. When they started to return across the lake a high wind was blowing Having settled the international feature the State Department is now likely to entom. Two men went to their rescue, supposing they would rise to the surface, but they did not. The bottom of the lake is counter some difficulty at bome in disbursing the money. Much litigation is threatened, as was endenced by the taking out of an injunction by one of the as-ber and aggregate amount cannot be learned at present. Of these the Department must take notice in settling the caim, and it is probable others are outstanding of which the department has not yet been informed. To insure a proper distribution the department will give official notice by the usual channels, so that the proper claims may be presented, and as this will necessarily consume some time, there will be no haste in closing up the matter. This morning a bailiff from one of the district courts waited on acting Secretary Adee and attempted to serve an one of the district courts waited on acting Secretary Adee and attempted to serve an injunction in behalf of Mrs. A. W. Frazier, restraining him from paying $1.600 of the claim, which she alleges to be her interest in an assignment held by Dr. Dexter. Mr. Adee refused to accept service, because the injunction was directed against. Richard Olney, and the papers were returned to court for an amendment to issue against the Secretary of State. Mr. Willoughby, a Washington lawyer, was also at the department in the interest of an assignment he holds from attorney Page, formerly Mora's lawyer, and there is reason to believe that these are but the forerunners of the numberous claims under assignments, some of which doubtless

Meat Inspection Order Modified. WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.-Secretary Morton to-day modified the order issued by him on Aug. 28 concerning the exportation of meat, changing the date when it was to go into effect from Sept. 16 to Oct. 16. This order was issued under the present law and provided for the most rigid inspection of meat. To-day a delegation consisting of John Cinamon, W. H. R. Thomas and J. S. Mailey, of New York, representing large packing interests, called on the secretary and represented that the time given in the order was not sufficient to allow them to comply with its provisions and that already there were large con-signments of meat affoat which had not been inspected and marked as required. It was also represented that the loss would run into the hundreds of thousands of dolfars. The secretary said that he wanted to give the shippers and packers all the time necessary and consented to an extension of one month. Hand Baggage Must Be Examined. WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.-Acting Revenue Collector Hamlin has informed the collectors of customs on the frontiers that tunity to act is extremely improbable. Nor the practice, authorized many years ago, is it thought that the urgency for an issue of labeling and stamping hand baggage of passengers on their departure from the United States for other places therein by serves no good purpose and affords no protection whatever to the revenue. The discontinuance of the practice has been ordered and in lieu thereof the collectors are directed to require their officers to examine the hand baggage of passengers arriving within their collection district from foreign territory without regard to the places whence the baggage may come.

NOT ARMOUR'S CHILD.

Never Saw Mrs. Coleman.

UTICA, N. Y., Sept. 14 .- At a special term of court held here to-day argument was heard by Judge Merwin in the case of Mrs. Flora Coleman, of New York, who sues for separation from her husband, John Stuart Coleman, alleging bad treatment. Her husband has brought a counter suit, and claims that his wife is an illegitimate child of Philip D. Armour, of Chicago. A sensation was caused in court when the story was told by the lawyers. To-day's pro-ceedings were to compel Coleman to pay a reasonable allowance per week during the pendency of the action. Coleman makes a sweeping denial of the charges of ill treat-

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—In relation to the Coleman case, Philip D. Armour said: "I never saw Mrs. Coleman in my life. I never saw her mother. Some time ago, think about two weeks, I got a letter from the woman's husband, saying he believed his wife was my daughter. I paid no at-tention to the letter, as I think the man is crazy or else was drunk when he wrote it. Shortly after, however, I got another letter, this time from Mrs. Coleman's lawyer, which I answered, saying that I had never seen the woman and had never seen her mother. The lawyer, who is a decent, reputable man, wrote me saying these facts were exactly as he understood them. He said Mrs. Coleman had told him she never had seen me and she was certain her mother had never seen me in her life. The fact is, these people, the Hadcocks, which was Mrs. Colmean's mother's name, lived in Stockbridge at one time. This is the town in which I was born. I remember such a family, but never knew any them. It was forty or fifty years ago, an until this story came up I had forgotten all about them. This is all there is to the Coleman story.

DUNRAVEN WRITES A LETTER.

He Is Reported to Have Explained the Action in Withdrawing Valkyrie. NEW YORK, Sept. 14.-Lord Dunraven has written a letter to the America's cup committee, in which he enters into a full explanation of his position in regard to the cup races. H. Maitland Kersey said this morning that he and Lord Dunraven worked from yesterday morning until late last night preparing this letter, and that it was delivered at the yacht clubhouse at 7:40 o'clock this morning. Mr. Kersey refused to make the letter public to-day, but said he would do so later if the cup committee did not. The following official notice was posted by the regatta committee on the bulletin board of the New York Yacht Club this morning: "Having filed with the America's cup cornmittee our report on the international races. we take opportunity to state, in answer to inquiries, why the last two races were not ordered resailed. Your committee, before taking evidence on the Defender's protest, made an unsuccessful endeavor to bring about a settlement by mutual agreement but each contestant preferred that the protest should take its course. A protest once filed and insisted on must be adjudged, and, a decision once rendered, the event is closed. As regards the resailing of the third race, the regatta committee has no attitud since the new conditions demanded by Lord Dunraven had been declined by the cur committee, and, therefore, the race could only be resailed under the original terms."

Dunraven at Newport. NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 14.-Lord Dunraven, accompanied by his daughter and H. Maitland Kersey, arrived here to-night on Mr. F. W. Vanderbilt's steam yacht Conqueror, which met the party at New London. Lord Dunraven was approached ormation. Mr. A. Cass Canfield, a member of the committee, was seen on the wharf, and when asked concerning Lord Dunrayen's letter, said it had been received only this morning, and had not yet bee considered. He said some little correspondence between Lord Dunraven and the com mittee would be necessary, and that probably all of it would be given out later. The Dunraven party will be the guests of the Vanderbilts for several days.

Defender Will Not Go to Cramps. NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Sept. 14.-C. Oliver Iselin, representing the syndicate which owns Defender, to-night denied the signees yesterday to restrain the State Department from pusing over all of the money to the claimant. Mora, During the years of the pendency of this great claim, Mr. Mora has been obliged to make assignments of part of it. the larger items being on account of legal expenses. Some of these assignments have been recorded in the State Department, but their numbers on board, the tender, Hattle Palmer, having been discharged. It has, however, not yet been decided, Mr. Iselin says, what shall be done with the cup winner, but she will probably be housed for the winter near his home.

An Unconfirmed Report. LONDON, Sept. 14.-Nothing is known at the Royal Yacht Squadron nor at the Southampton yacht clubs regarding reports published in London to-day that Earl of Dunraven has challenged Defender to a race on the Mediterranean sea, or that English yachtsmen are about to offer a new inter-national cup. Colonel Bucknell, of the Royal Southampton Club, says that he is satisfied that Lord Dunraven will challenge Defender to a race in European waters.

This time he has gone so far as to secure passage on the steamer City of Sydney, which will sail for Central American ports on Wednesday next. Ezeta has for months been preparing for his campaign. On nearly every steamer which has recently sailed for Panama he has sent packages of printed proclamations calling on the people of his country to join him and proclaim himself their political savior. Ezeta says he will land at one of the Mexican ports and then proceed to La Libertad, where he hopes to be joined by his trusted band of followers, the number increasing as it charges towards the capital. He expects to enter the city of San Salvador in triumph. The soldiery will desert the standard of Guiterrez and the fierce tribes of half breeds and Indians under General Rivas are expected to flock to Ezeta's aid. Ezeta has been waiting for funds and the failure of the remittances to arrive before Wednesday will, he says, alone prevent his embarkation on his career of capture and

MURDEROUS ITALIANS.

They Stab One Man to Death and Sectously Wound Two More.

HAZLETON, Pa., Sept. 14.-The Lattimer coal region was the scene of a cold-blooded murder last night. The Italians who were recently dismissed from the mines are on the warpath, and have created a reign of terror. While going to his home Lote Lashaw was attacked on the railroad, behind the Lattimer postoffice, and stabbed to death. Andrew Hospander was attacked at No. 1 breaker and stabbed five times in the back and body. He cannot live. Charles Jacks, watchman at No. 3 Lattimer breaker, Jacks, watchman at No. 3 Lattimer breaker, was assailed by four Italians at midnight. He was badly wounded. He says he can identify them. Superintendent Levan, of Milnesville, was attacked by the same gang, but was not harmed. Several arrests have been made, but the guilty foreigners are several collieries. Intense excitement pre-vails. The dead man was an inoffensive miner, and the crime is simply the develop-ment of a criminal instinct which seems to be inherent in the class of Italians living in the vicinity of Lattimer.

Ex-President Harrison Will Leave New York Monday Morning.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 .- Ex-President Harison, who has been for several weeks at Old Forge, in the Adirondacks, arrived at the Fifth-avenue Hotel late to-night. A number of reporters awaited the arrival of the ex-President, and plied him with a series of questions as to the probability of his nomination for a second term. Mr. Harrison shook his head and said he desired to be excused from answering questions having a political tinge. He said:
"I was accompanied as far as Albany by Judge Sanborn Refuses to Enjoin th Proposed Consolidation.

Railread Company and J. J. Hill, its presiin the centest precipitated by Thomas W. Pearsall on his application for a preliminary injunction against the proposed consolidation of the Northern Pacific and the Great nothing of Mrs. Hinshaw. I went into the Northern roads, made to Judge Sanborn, of the United States Circuit Court. The decision was filed to-day, the court denying the motion of Pearsall, the complainant. next step will be to hear the case on its it. In the east, or sitting room, there was merits, for it must be tried according to the a strong smell of powder, and I made my procedure vouchsafed to every regular issue that comes before the court. The case will be tried as a court case before the judge, and evidence will be introduced on behalf of either party, and another decision by the court will be the end of that issue. While this proceeding is a preliminary one, the victory is none the less an important step toward the consummation sought by President Hill. The thorough investigation of the subject given by Judge Sanborn, and his de-ductions, seem to point to a clear right to continue the plan that has for so long occupied the attention of the business world. Judge Sanborn says the final adjudication lies with the Supreme Court.

Excursion Rates. CHICAGO, Sept. 14.-The Michigan Central has decided that it will run excursions from Canadian points to Minneapolis and St. Paul. The rate for the round trip will be $33, and the Western roads have agreed to accept $23 as their proportion of the rate from Chicago to the destination. The excursions will be run on Oct. 3, 4 and 5 next. There will be low rates from all points in Illinois to the Atlanta Exposition, no matter what action the lines of the western Lines Passenger Association may take to the contrary. Some of the lines in the association have already admitted that the competition of the Ohio river and the Central Traffic lines will force them to make the same rates as have been adopted by those lines, and, with the barriers once broken down, it is hard to see how the other roads in the association can refrain from making the rates. It is a foregone conclusion that the low rates will prevail from Illinois, and the chances are that they will prevail from all Western territory as well.

Charles W. Smith, in His Opening Statement, Makes a Telling Arraignment of the State's Evidence.

THEORY OF THE DEFENSE

WITNESSES WHO SAW BURGLARS THE NIGHT OF THE TRAGEDY.

The Accused Minister Will Testify in His Own Behalf-Result of Powder-Burn Tests Barred.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. DANVILLE, Ind., Sept. 14 .- The prosecution in the Hinshaw murder case rested its case to-day at noon, and this afternoon was the defense to be presented. It is announced that Hinshaw is to be placed on the stand and allowed to repeat his version of the tragedy. It was expected that the prosecution would introduce some bit of surprising testimony toward the last, but it failed to come, and the State's case rested without the addition of any important evidence. The outline of the case for the defense made by Mr. Smith was listened to with the case of the State were anxious to hear what the defense will attempt to than usual, but all the time Mr. Smith spoke few left the room, and he had the best of attention. A hungry juror, who took from his pocket an apple and began to eat it, did the eating mechanically, all the time keeping his eyes, and apparently his mind, fixed upon Mr. Smith. It was admitted at the adjournment of court that if the defense produces all the testimony which is promised the case will assume a very hopeful aspect for Hinshaw. It is doubtful if a theory of any murder case in the history of the State has ever been presented in a better manner than that given by Mr. Smith. He was forcible at all times, and his good-natured way of still at liberty. Detectives are new work- speaking, withal very earnest, created an ing on the case, assisted by workmen of the excellent impression. He frequently bespeaking, withal very earnest, created an came pointed and terse in his remarks, so that there was no monotony in his statement. At one juncture he became so emphatic as to punch a hole into the map of the murder scene. At another point he said, regarding Miss Worrell, who was a witness whose testimony could not be shaken by anything previously said by her: "And there is Miss Worrell who came braced for the occasion, She came here set, and try as we would. she was not to be shaken. She was honest and did not propose to be annoyed by cross-

At the conclusion of Mr. Smith's state-ment, court adjourned until Monday morning, when the defense will begin the introduction of testimony. Mr. Duncan said, last evening, that it will probably take all of the week for them to complete their case. The first witness called yesterday morning was Miss Althea Cornwell, who was one of the witnesses for the defense. She is a daughter of Benjamin Cornwell, of Hall, Morgan county, but at the time of the tragedy she lived directly across from the Hinshaw parsonage. Miss Cornwell was awakened on the night of the murder by shouts and cries of, "Oh, my God, I'm shot," Her mother told her to go out and see what was the matter and in doing so she observed a man in the shadow of the Tinchor fence, who would raise up and then fall to the ground, all the time crying: "My God, I am murdered. Won't any-body come to me?"

The man walked or rather crawled northward. Miss Cornwell had a young man visiting her that evening and her heart was filled with misgivings. She rushed forth in her night clothes and asked if it was "Jess." The man came near the parwas "Jess." The man came hear the parsonage gate and Miss Cornwell went back to dress, after which she returned, finding the man, who was Hinshaw, near Mr. East's fence. He said he was bleeding to death, and asked for a doctor. "Where is Mrs. Hinshaw," asked Miss Cornwell, to which question Hinshaw re-plied that he did not know. He explained at the time that some persons had en-tered the house. The last he saw of his wife was when she stood by him beseech-ingly asked: "Will, is that you?"

Hinshaw asked Miss Cornwell to leave him to go look for his wife. Miss Corn-well obtained some more clothing and then came back to the house, where the search for Mrs. Hinshaw is described by her as "Remembering what Mr. Hinshaw said about Thurza, I started around the house to find her. I tried the east and side ST. She told of the attempts estore life to the pastor's wife, she and the ow others who had gathered not realizing hat she was dead. She testified to seel two footprints in the snow near the well and about ten feet from the house. She also heard sounds of disappearing footsteps when she arrived at the parsonage gate the

"Don't you know it was a horse or running south?" asked Mr. Spaan, "I don't know what caused the sound. The "Never mind, now," interrupted

"Ah, the detectives said something about the sound, eh?" said Mr. Duncan, showing a renewed interest in the testimony. The attorneys wrangled for a minute the thought caused the noise, and she was William J. Cope was recalled, and testified hat he had called George Miller's attention to the defendant going in the gate near the woodshed several times at night before the tragedy. Mr. Spaan asked if Miller and witness did not watch for defendant, and witness replied that he "thought not." The witness replied that he "thought not." The the notes of the grand jury were produce showing that Cope had testified that he ar Miller had writed fifteen minutes for His shaw to come out, and Miller had said saw a woman come forth.
"Did you not testify before the corone asked Mr. Duncan of the witness. "that y
